Conference finds new home at UNC Charlotte

- What: NCARH presents winning conference bid to UNC Charlotte
- Who: Rachel Tinker, director of NCARH, will be available for interviews. Tinker can discuss the following topics:
- Career opportunities in university housing
 - Statewide service initiatives
 - Updated recognition awards
- When: The presentation will occur on Jan. 27, 2018, at 9:30 a.m.
- Where: UNC Charlotte Housing and Residence Life Office
9201 University City Blvd., Charlotte, NC 28223
- Why: UNC Charlotte Housing and Residence Life faculty and staff will gather to watch as NCARH Director Rachel Tinker presents the 2019 winning conference bid to Conference Chair Ashleigh Mitchell. Media will have the opportunity to photograph the audience releasing butterflies into the sky to celebrate the win.
- Background: The annual NCARH conference allows NC schools to meet, exchange ideas and attend programming sessions. The conference will give students an opportunity to learn about careers in university housing, get involved with NCARH service projects, and nominate their school and peers for recognition awards.

NCARH Director Rachel Tinker will be available on Jan. 27 from 9-11 a.m. for in-person and phone interviews.

To book an interview, please call UNC Charlotte Housing and Residence Life at 704-687-7501.
